The Community of Cyber Thieves Never Rests

Approximately 60 Williams Lake and District Credit Union members recently experienced cyber fraud attempts on their accounts. In most cases robust security controls identified the fraud, the transaction was stopped, and funds were returned to the members' accounts.

Cyber fraud is a growing challenge for all financial institutions. The community of cyber thieves never rests. Recent attacks appear to be looking for members who use weak passwords such as 12345.

The Credit Union advises members to be vigilant by ensuring passwords are strong; monitoring accounts and immediately notifying the Credit Union of any suspicious activity; and never clicking on links that ask for personal information.

For privacy reasons the Credit Union will not divulge individual member transactions; however, where there is proven fraud, members will be appropriately reimbursed.
